"CURLY" BROWN GOES GUNNING FOR "CLEM" CREVELING.

Exciting Incident at St. Louis That Ended in the Arrest of the Californian-Yesterday's Running Races.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21 .- Last Tuesday "Curly" H. C. Brown, the California horseman, and Judge Clem Creveling had a furious fist fight on a prominent street leading to the fair grounds. They were separated, however, before they had done much damage, from shooting Creveling. To-day Creveling and a friend were walking down Olive passing street car and made for his late pulled a big Celt's revolver from the waistman, grabbed Brown's arm and prevented

"Now, don't do that," said Creveling as he saw the gun. "Let's go down to Tom Kelly's and fight it out like a couple of

"All right," acquiesced Brown, and the party started for Kelly's, Arriving there, Brown refused to give up his gun, although Creveling begged him to do so for nearly

"Let's get in a carriage," said Brown.
"and go somewhere and shoot it out at the end of a handkerchief." "That might do for you," Creveling replied, "but I've got a family to look out for. If it's fight you want I'll give it to you, but I'd rather buck against a pair of fillies than a pair of Colts." After three attempts to shoot Creveling, Brown was placed under arrest and his gun

"What he's got against me I don't know," because I ruled him off the Kansas City race track. I got him the job there, starting, at $25 a day. I was in the judge's stand, and Al Sherer, the horseman, preferred charges against Brown and his the Brown brothers were going around to different men saying if they did not give them money 'Curly' would leave their horses to connect with what is known as the Ohio at the post. These charges were substantiated, but so as not to give the meeting a black eye I asked that they be dismissed and the matter was hushed up. Since then Brown seems to have had it in for me, but I'll get the big duffer yet and give him all the fight he's looking for."

RICHEST IN THE WORLD. The Cripple Creek Gold Mining District Is a Bonanza.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21 .- The Times-Herald this morning devotes two columns to carefully prepared report on Cripple Creek and the gold fields of Colorado. It says, in part: "A million a month-this is the precious metal product of the Cripple Creek district. And this figure, big as it seems, is inside rather than beyond the monthly gold output-a conservative rather than a liberal statement. The shipments for October were 14,800 tons of smelting ore of an average value of $65, and 6,000 tons of milling ore ranging from $8 to $35 per ton, with an average of $15. The total value of high grade ores for October was $962,000 and of the low grade ores, $102,000. The grand total of the product reaches $1,064,000. The record for November will show an increase.

"The original discovery of gold in Cripple Creek-or, perhaps, the discoveries which led to the present development would fit the case better-were made in 1890. The creek country was then known as Pisgah Park and was regarded as fitted for stock raising purposes only. It is asserted by the miners that this country, containing twenty-four square miles, contains more riches than any other region in the world.

There is some basis for this assertion. Of the many claims staked out hundreds are held by the assessment work only. The owners lack funds to develop or hold their claims for speculative purposes. It is probable that fewer than one hundred mines are regular shippers of ore, and perhaps half the number are dividend payers. One may count on his fingers the companies and private owners whose shafts and tunnels are deeper than 200 feet. The produc-tion thus far has been wholly superficial and incidental only to the search for the principal vein. As the work on the leads progresses the ore becomes richer. The value is almost susceptible of exact calculation when the original assay at the surface and the depth of the shaft is known. "Senator Teller, who was here last week, left his indorsement on the Cripple Creek country. As is known, he is an old and practical miner. His views on free silver do not seem to bias or warp his judgment on gold ores. 'It is the greatest gold pro-ducing section in the world,' he said. 'I am glad Colorado has it, and I hope her capitalists will be able to retain it.'

He Says His Charge Regarding Defender's Measurement Was Made at the Time of the Races.

The America's cup has been erected as a great have gradually acquired in America the dimensions of a really important national sums of money are involved and vast crowds of spectators throng to the scene. But the care and attention of those responsible the conduct of these contests has not increased in proportion to the increased inter-When great masses of people are so interested, all the responsibility should be assumed by those in charge. It is not fair to the public or any of the parties concerned that there should be any question as to honor or integrity, of one man's accuracy or keenness, or of another's moral perceptions. Such contests ought to be conducted with the closest official scrutiny. I tried to impress this on these managing the races, and I venture to think that if they had listened a little more seriously it would have been better for all, certainly better for me. and I should never have been compelled to act in a way which was most distasteful to feeling would have been obviated."

His Lordship then took up the accusation that he had made a new charge when he said Defender sailed the race more deeply immersed and, consequently, with a longer waterline than, according to the measurement, she was entitled to saft with. He resented this accusation and sald he had formally demanded a remeasurement of the yachts at the time of the contests and that his wishes had been complied with. Continuing, he said: "I cannot grasp the situation. The managing owner of Defender, in a letter read at a meeting of the New York Yacht Club, on Monday last, assumed full responsibility. He says he is standing before the world solemnly charged by me with a most base offense and invokes vindication of the honor of the owners of the Defender, the New York Yacht Club and the American people. I am sorry this attitude was adopted and I strongly demur to being credited with charges I have not made. I greatly deprecate the introduction of the personal element into the inquiry. I am afraid that, with the best of intentions, the New York Yacht Club inquiry, after the lapse of two months, cannot possibly arrive at satisfactory terms. As I have already offered, I will, at any inconvenience to myself, do the best to assist the club, even if it involves visiting America. The club will do its impartially. That is quite certain. "I am also accused of desiring to insult the American nation. My ideas are not so large or ambitious. The contract is ever so much too big for me. Is it not preposterously absurd that, after my long and close connections with America, and the kindness and hospitality I have experienced at their hands, I could possibly desire to insult them? Or, that after immense trouble and expense, I should withdraw from a contest unless I felt absolutely compelled to do so? hope I can take a licking as well as any man, provided it is a fair one. I would have admitted that my ship was beaten had she been beaten on her merits. But, fair condi-tions and a fair field are necessary to determine that question. I withdrew because I was certain it was my right as an individual and my duty as sailing representative."

Hanlon Defeated by Bubear:

Lord Dunraven, replying to the gentlemen who made the presentation said that this occasion was one of the happiest moments plain duty. I fully realized that this course was likely to be widely misunderstood and that it would entail upon me much annoyance and anxiety. AFTER TWO DAYS WESTERN LEAGUE CIRCUIT STILL IN DOUBT.

Columbus Will Get a Franchise, but Eighth Town Uncertain-Brush and Johnson at Outs.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CHICAGO, Nov. 21 .- The Western League is plunged into a serious controversy over the disposition of the two remaining franchises at the disposal of the League in order to complete the circuit of eight clubs. There is war over the question of deciding among the different applicants, who want the franchise at Columbus and at a late hour to-night it was still uncertain whether Toledo or Omaha will make The Light Artillery left here to-night for Chicago with their eighteen men. The second ballot one of these Omaha votes-it is thought Minneapolisswitched to Toledo, electing that town, It was thought this settled the question of the towns, but when the League called in Mr. J. W. Gunnells, the applicant for the Toledo franchise, there was a split at once. Mr. Gunnells agreed to the League's terms of $2,500 for the franchise-in other words, for the players that went with itbut when he found out that the League was giving him the franchise for only one year he shouted: "No" so loudly that the bell boy came running in to find out what was DePauw will probably come up from the town of Greencastle with a large crowd of supporters, and Butler will endeavor to have all of her friends on the ground. Both the trouble. Mr. Gunnells had decidedly different ideas as to the value of a baseball franchise from those entertained by the League and the result was that he eventually left the meeting in a huff and returned to Toledo, forswearing any con-nection with baseball in the future.

This left the League without any formal applicant at Toledo, although President Johnson said that others were willing and anxious to get the franchise in the Ohio with these and in the meantime the question of the eighth League city is again open and it is possible that Omaha will be resorted to, although the opinion of most of the magnates is that Omaha will be a better town a year or two hence than

But the trouble over Toledo was only ouff compared with that which resulted in the disposition of the franchise at Co-lumbus. LYNCHING IN TENNESSEE. Negro Dragged from Jail and Strung to an Oak Tree.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 21. - Charles Hurd, a negro, who murdered Jasper Kelley, a young white man, near Harriman ten days ago, was taken from the jail at Wartburg, the county seat of Morgan county, and lynched at midnight. Last night a mob of two hundred masked men gathered at a point three miles from the jail and marched in fours to the prison. A demand was made on jailer Longley to admit them. This he refused to do, and the door was broken open with a sledge hammer. When the mob gained the inside the jailer was overawed with pistols and guns, and finally gave up his keys. The negro was taken from his cell and a rope placed around his neck. He was dragged to an oak tree one hundred yards distant, where he was
